Nabil had a wonderful time at his eighth birthday party. He was so delighted to receive his presents. He also had different kinds of candy, cookies and muffins during his party. His mother then reminded him to brush his teeth before he went to bed, but Nabil forgot. After the party, he washed his face and went to sleep.

A week later, Nabil felt an aching pain in one of his teeth. His mother wanted to take him to the dentist, but he refused. He imagined that he would be in a lot of pain when the dentist extracted his tooth. His annoyed mother said, "If you do not visit the dentist, your pain will become worse!"

Nabil had no choice but to sadly agree. His mother quickly drove him to see the dentist. On their way there, she said, "Your last visit to the dentist was two years ago, right? It is definitely time for a check-up."

At the dental clinic, Nabil was terrified! However, the kind dentist told him that he would not feel any pain. His mother also tried to comfort him and held his hand tightly. To his surprise, when the dentist extracted his decayed tooth, it was not as painful as he thought it would be. He closed his eyes and became more relaxed.

Once she was done, the dentist taught Nabil the proper way of looking after his teeth. Nabil promised both the dentist and his mother that he would brush his teeth at least twice a day. He also learnt to eat healthily and eat less sweet food.
