Section G : Read the passage carefully. (7m)

In a village, there lived a shepherd named Peter. The villagers were kind and helpful. One day, Peter felt bored and played a trick on the villagers. "Help! Help! The wolf has come to eat my sheep!" he shouted.

The villagers heard Peter's cries and rushed to help him. However, when they arrived, Peter laughed at them saying, "You foolish people have fallen for my trick! There is no wolf."

A few hours later, he played the same trick again. When the villagers discovered that they had been tricked, they were furious.

After some time, a wolf came and attacked Peter's sheep. He ran around shouting, "Help! Somebody save my sheep!" This time, the villagers did not believe him so they ignored his cries.

Some of his sheep were killed. From that day onwards, he never dared to lie again.
