Write its number (1, 2, 3 or 4) in the brackets provided.

Police said that Madam Hoi was on her way home when a man approached her to ask for directions. That was how they started a conversation and the man offered to show her a magic stone, which he claimed could cure many illnesses.

After some persuasion, she went with him to a car parked nearby where the man's accomplice studied her face and told her that bad luck would befall her family.

They advised her to take the 'magic stone' home to cleanse her house and to also enlist a master to pray for her family. Worried about the safety of her family, Madam Hoi agreed. The tricksters became bolder and told her that she would also need two cleansing sessions, each costing $10 000.

Madam Hoi went to the nearest bank to withdraw the money. After taking the money, the men then passed her a black bag and told her to wait for them at the void deck.

After a few hours, when the men did not return, Madam Hoi opened the bag and found a brick and a rolled up newspaper. To her dismay, she realised that she had been tricked and reported the matter to the police.

The police are now trying to appeal to witnesses regarding the whereabouts of these two con men. Police said that the elderly and illiterate are more susceptible to such tricks and over the years quite a number of elderly women have fallen prey to the magic stone trick.

Section F: Comprehension Open Ended (7 x 2 marks)

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions in complete sentences.

Figure skating is a very graceful sport. One of the finest figure skaters in the world is Peggy Fleming. When she was about nine years old, her family had to move to Cleveland due to her father's work commitments. It was there that she learnt how to skate and her love for figure skating soon blossomed.

It was obvious to many that Peggy had a natural talent for skating. She was just a novice skater when she competed in the United States Figure Skating Championships in 1962, where she won the bronze medal. The following year she secured another bronze medal for her performance. Undaunted, Peggy continued to train hard and she emerged the undefeated champion for the next five years. Peggy's determination and perseverance paid off when she went on to clinch the gold medal at the Grenada Olympics.

Not long after, Peggy retired from her competitive career.

Although she no longer took part in competitions, Peggy continued to contribute to the sport. She appeared in numerous television programmes and interviews to promote the sport. Peggy's breathtaking performances earned her worldwide fame such that she was one of the first skaters ever invited to perform at the White House.

Peggy Fleming will always be admired for her skill and elegance in the figure-skating arena. She will always be a model for future figure skaters to emulate.

37. Where did Peggy Fleming first learn to skate?
